INTRAPRENEUR

The term 'intrapreneur' was coined in the United States of America in the late seventies.

Gifford Pinchot defined intrapreneurs as the persons who resigned from their well paid executive positions to launch their own ventures. Gifford devised the way by which such executives could be retained in the industry and their entrepreneurial urge was also satisfied by their bosses. So a system was devised whereby such executives would operate as entrepreneurs with full independence and autonomy but within the organisation.

Difference between entrepreneur and intrapreneur

- 1. An entrepreneur is an independence person who starts his venture and bears full risk of his failure and enjoys the fruit of his success whereas intrapreneur is partially independent and is sponsored by the corporation in which he is working. He is also not liable to bear the losses in case of his failure.*
- 2. An entrepreneur raises the finance from various sources and also guarantees their return whereas an intrapreneur does not own responsibility to raise the capital or to return it.*
- 3. An entrepreneur has no relation with any organisation whereas an intrapreneur operates within the organisation where he is working.*

FUNCTIONS OF AN ENTREPRENEUR

There has been a great deal of confusion and contradiction in literature on the functions of an entrepreneur.

FUNCTIONS

- 1. Innovations: J. Schumpeter has made substantial contribution to the literature of entrepreneurship. The process of innovations may be in the form of:*
 - a) Introduction of a new product.*
 - b) Use of new methods of production.*
 - c) Opening of a new market.*
 - d) The conquest of new source of supply of raw material.*
 - e) A new form of organisation.*

2. Risk-taking: Richard cantillon states that entrepreneur is an agent who buys means of production at certain prices and sells them at uncertain prices. The entrepreneur performs the function of reducing uncertainty in his plan of investment and expansion of the enterprise.
J.b. Say also stresses risk-taking as the specific function of an entrepreneur.

3. Decision Maker: Entrepreneur as a decision maker describes the following functions of an entrepreneur.

- a) The determination of objectives of an enterprise and the change of those objectives as conditions required or made advantageous,*
- b) The development of an organisation including efficient relations with subordinates and all employees,*

- c) Securing adequate financial resources, the relations with existing and potential Investors,*
- d) The acquisition of efficient technological equipment and the revision of it as new machinery appears,*
- e) The development of a market for the products and the devising of new products to meet or anticipate consumer's demand,*
- f) The maintenance of good relations with public authorities and with society at large.*

4. Organisation and Management: Marshall recognized organisation and management of the enterprise as the important functions of an entrepreneur.

When the organisation grows bigger, the entrepreneur effectively delegates authority and finds responsibility at various levels of management. The network of decision making becomes more complex.

The functions of organisation and management includes:

- a) Planning of an enterprise,*
- b) Co-ordination, administration and control,*
- c) Routine type of supervision.*
